

Miss Hoyle's Newsletter

November 3, 2023

Social Studies	We began our Social Studies unit on Economics & U.S. Government. We learned about goods and services. We learned the difference between a good and a service, and distinguished the two from each other.
Math	We solved number stories using two operations. We solved problems involving multiples of equal groups and made sense of multiplying by 0 and 1. We solved problems using arrays.
Writing	We began our fiction narrative unit! We identified fiction from nonfiction writing. We learned how to develop strong characters for our stories. We worked on building and describing the setting of our stories.
Reading	We finished reading "The Wild Robot." We continued our character studies unit and began reading the book "Because of Winn-Dixie." We studied characters, examined their traits, and found evidence in our books to back up what we found. We learned about first person point of view.